The Football Hop Friday Evening in the Gymnasium

FOOTBALL DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT TO FETE GRID TEAM

Gymnasium to be Scene of Annual Hop in Honor Of Team

AUSPICES MEN'S G. W. CLUB
Pres. Lewis, Coach Crum and Capt. Sapp to Speak; Unveil Record Boards

On Friday of this week the Football Hop, first important event of the University social season, will be held. The Men's G. W. Club, which is in full charge of the affair, promises that the Hop will be an event worthy of the coach and the football team in whose honor it is being given. A principal feature of the evening will be the presentation by President Lewis of the two athletic record boards which have been purchased for the University by the Men's G. W. Club.

The dance will be from 10 o'clock until 1, with an intermission during which the presentation of the record boards will be made and a special program of entertainment will be given.

Harold M. Young, president of the Men's G. W. Club, will introduce the speakers of the evening. President Lewis, who will make the presentation address and unveil the record boards; and Coach "Maud" Crum and Captain Henry Sapp, who will give short talks on the work and accomplishments of the football team. Following the speaker, special dance numbers by the Hooper brothers and by Jerry Slicker will be given.

Excellent Music Promised

Johnny Slaughter and his Hotel Powhatan orchestra, a group of musicians who have quite an enviable reputation among the orchestras of Washington, will do their best to satisfy the jazziest collegian. The dance committee is taking particular care to have the gymnasium floor in excellent condition for the evening. The gym floor is large enough to accommodate several hundred couples, and if all other conditions are favorable the hall will probably be well filled. Not only letter men and athletes of former years, but all G. W. students and their friends who care to do so, are invited to attend. The dance committee, composed of George B. Martin, chairman, John A. Pluge, and H. Clay Espey, which is attending to all the details of the affair, assures a glorious evening to all who attend.

Tickets, at $2.50 for a couple or an individual, are still on sale at the Medical School, the Law School, and at the office of the treasurer of Columbian College.

Proceeds for Athletics

Although the primary object of the Hop is to honor the football team, a secondary object, the raising of a sum of money which will be used to aid in financing athletic activities of the University, deserves mention. The Men's G. W. Club expect to use the proceeds from the Hop much as they were used last year. With the exception of enough to defray the expenses of the spring Inter-Class Track and Field Meet, the money will probably be used to help the major athletic activities and to encourage the minor activities which are uncertain of other financial support.

All football men who have just received their letters, and all other letter men who are not already members, are urged by the Men's G. W. Club to join at once. The club is the only organization in the University that is interested primarily in athletes and athletics. Letter men who are interested in becoming members should apply to Harold M. Young, president, or to Edwin S. Bettelheim, treasurer.

Cherry Tree Plans Progressing Rapidly

Appointments for Junior and Senior Pictures May be Made at Once

Students are urged to make appointments now for sittings at Edmonston's any day from 8:30 to 5:30.

Juniors and students in the several activities are to have their pictures taken in street dress, Medical and Law students in cap and gown, fraternity men in tux, and sorority girls in evening dress. Seniors may wear evening or street dress.

There is no additional charge for poses in different dress, such as cap and gown or street clothes, so long as only five proofs are made.

After the Christmas holidays there will be launched vigorous campaigns for subscriptions and advertisements. The volunteers who obtain ads will receive a commission of ten per cent, and those who sell twenty Cherry Trees will receive one free.

On account of last year's surplus, only a limited number of Cherry Trees is to be printed this year, but an extra edition or so may be printed if called for.

GEOLOGY CLUB PETITIONS NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Local Organization Seeks Charter From Sigma Gamma Epsilon

The Geological Club of George Washington, is petitioning Sigma Gamma Epsilon, a national professional geology fraternity, which has chapters in all the larger universities which have important geology departments. This club is composed of eleven active members, Erwin Pohl, president; George Tash, vice-president; and M. W. Shepherd, secretary. The purpose of the Geological Club is the promotion of interest in geology and encourage graduate students to take up this profession. It is an honorary society and has every chance of having the petition granted.

GREEKS SCORE IN ANNUAL VODVIL

Record Audience Crowds Gymnasium For Performance On Both Nights

PROFITS GO TO DRAMATICS

Varied Entertainment Ranges From Broad Comedy to Artistic Acts Repeated

The second and final performance of the Annual Vodvil was given Wednesday, November 24, in the gymnasium. This year marks the University's fourth such presentation.

The gymnasium was filled to capacity both evenings, late arrivals being forced to occupy the bleachers in the rear. The profits, to be applied to the dramatic fund, are expected to exceed $200 by a good margin, and the committee in charge is well pleased with the financial results.

In the opinions of Professor Elmer Kayser and Edward Moulton, the acts of both nights were by far the snappiest and most entertaining of any yet given.

Entertainment Varies

The nature of the entertainment varied, ranging from the hilarious comedy of "Barnum Was Right," by Theta Upsilon Omega to the purely artistic achievements of "A Night in Bagdad" by the Art Promoters' Club. Probably the most typical were the song and dance acts and there were many such on the program. Several of the headliners merited positions on the bill both nights, including "Just A Kiss," "It Pays to Advertise," "The War of the Roses," "A Lesson in Old China," and "Romeo and Juliet."

All of the acts were marked by originality and cleverness and showed diligent efforts on the part of the participants. The lighting was extremely good, and the stage crew performed commendably in the handling of scenes and curtain.

The idea of having a different program each night proved very successful. This entirely new policy provided accommodations for more entries and encouraged attendance as well.

The Press Club pulled a surprise in the nature of a publicity stunt to advertise the resurrection of the "Ghost." Incidentally, the identity of the ghost has not yet been announced.

After the final performance Wednesday night a spirited pep-meeting was held in preparation for the George Washington's C. U. game.

PI DELTA FOUNDERS' DAY WILL BE CELEBRATED

National Journalistic Fraternity to Hold Annual Banquet on Its Seventeenth Anniversary

Pierre's Cafe will be the scene of the Founders' Day banquet to be given by the George Washington University Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, December 7, in celebration of the seventeenth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity at Syracuse University in 1909. The fraternity was founded on December 6, but the local chapter has designated the following day for its celebration because of conflicting events.

A large number of graduate Pi Deltas living in Washington are being rounded up and have promised to attend the banquet. The honorary members of the local chapter, who include Prof. H. G. Doyle, Prof. DeWitt Croissant, Mr. Daniel C. Chace, Leonard Hall, and Norman W. Baxter, are expected to be present and will probably give short talks.

The six new pledges of the fraternity will also be present. They are R. Campbell Starr, Rowland Lyon, Sherman Johnson, Robert Stearns, Joe D. Walston, and Elbert Huber.

DEAN ROSE'S TEA

Dean Rose will have tea for the women of the University, Wednesday, December 1, from 4:30 until 6. All women students are invited.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA TO INSTALL G. W. ALCHEMIST FRAT

Fifty Active and Alumni Members Will Be Installed On Saturday

PROMINENT MEN INCLUDED

Members of Chapter At University of Virginia Come Here to Officiate

The Alchemists, a fraternity composed of chemical students of the University, will be initiated into the national chemical fraternity of Alpha Chi Sigma on December 4, 1926, in Corcoran Hall. The ceremonies will be held at 2:30 in the afternoon, followed by an elaborate banquet in the Hamilton Hotel, beginning at 7 o'clock. At the banquet which follows, Mr. Homer Winkler will give the address of welcome, in behalf of the G. W. Chapter. Dr. W. S. Ritchie, who has charge of the installation ceremonies, will respond for Alpha Chi Sigma. Others who will give addresses are: Dr. F. C. Vibration, University of North Carolina, District Deputy of Alpha Chi Sigma; Mr. McBride, Assistant Editor of "Chemical Metallurgical Engineering"; Mr. Jess Barnes; Dr. Chas. Edward Monroe, past President of the American Chemical Society; Dr. C. M. Mackall, of the G. W. chemical faculty; Dr. J. H. Roe; and Mr. Paul Brattain, in behalf of G. W. alumnae. The charter members of the new chapter will number 45, there being 24 active Alchemists, 7 faculty members, and 14 alumnae who will be initiated at this time. Alpha Chi Sigma is one of the largest of national chemical fraternities. The G. W. chapter will become the 40th collegiate chapter. Besides these, there are 11 professional chapters in the United States and 2 chapters abroad, one of these being at the Sorbonne, Paris.

Forty-five Charter Members
The Alchemists fraternity was founded at G. W. in 1912. In 1915 it merged with the "Gas House Gang," a later chemical organization. Again in 1925 the Alchemists merged with Eta Chi Sigma, a local honorary chemical fraternity founded upon the principles of scholarship, practicality in chemistry, and sociability. In both instances the reorganized chapter kept the name of the older organization. Thus the Alchemists grew until, at the time of petitioning Alpha Chi Sigma, it presented a united body of 28 active, 51 alumnae, and 8 faculty members, with a definite policy of earnestly and sincerely serving the University and the profession of chemistry to their utmost ability.

The local society of Alchemists has the following officers at present: President, Dr. Julius F. T. Berliner; Acting Vice President, Howard A. Jones; and Secretary-Treasurer, George P. Graff. It is expected that a number of neophytes will be initiated during the Christmas holidays.

The Women's Advisory Council has chosen the family which will benefit this year by the annual Christmas barrel of that organization. They were found through the medium of the Juvenile Protective Association. The father and mother and the six children are all tubercular. The oldest girl is badly crippled. Their only income is the little the father and the two oldest boys can earn through irregular employment, and is hardly over sixty dollars a month.

Contributions of staple foods, clothing and money will be gladly received by Evelyn Jones at Dean Rose's office. A large barrel and mite boxes have been provided for this purpose.

The boys are 17, 15, and 8 years old; the girls, 19, 8, and 4. Any clothing to fit these children, or that could be made over for them would be appreciated. The council suggest bringing donations early so that the children may have warm clothing before the severe weather sets in.

Last year the contributions in money brought one family coal for the entire winter, and one girls' organization furnished milk for the children during the whole winter.

GIRLS OF '29 PLAN TO RAISE THIRD UNIT FUND

The committee has been named to take charge of the Endowment Fund drive for the room to be given in the new unit by the girls of the Class of '29. The first meeting is called for Thursday, December 2.

The committee consists of Billie Wright, chairman; Mary Louise Beard, Virginia Strickland, Helen Taylor, and Margaret Loeffler. They will discuss ways and means of raising the necessary quota of $10,000.

ADVISORY COUNCIL MEETS
The Women's Advisory Council will meet Tuesday, November 30, to discuss plans for Christmas charity.

AERIAL ATTACK WINS FOR C. U. IN THRILLING GAME

Foley and Harvey Star By Passes; 134 Yards By Air Route

FINAL SCORE IS 17 TO 9

Colonials' Line Sturdy; Walker and Stehman Score for G. W. Which Leads at Half

By KINGSLAND PRENDER

By holding the powerful Colonials scoreless after the first half and by opening up a brilliant aerial attack, the sturdy C. U. Cardinals earned a well-fought victory by a 17-9 score in the annual "Turkey Day" tilt at the Brookland Stadium. This game marked the fifth victory for the Red Birds in seven annual encounters. It also marked the close of the local gridiron season.

The ten thousand partially frozen fans were thrilled by the sterling exhibition of football technique as shown by the well-matched contestants. All departments of the game were resorted to during the afternoon, but it was the brilliant aerial attack of the Cardinals that finally brought the honors to C. U.

Statistics show that the teams were more evenly matched than the final score would indicate. Here are the figures: First downs, C. U. 10, G. W. 9; attempted forwards, C. U. 25, G. W. 17; completed, C. U. 7, G. W. 6; intercepted, C. U. 3, G. W. 2; uncompleted, C. U. 15, G. W. 9.

The Cardinal passes were good for 134 yards, while the Colonial overhead game netted a little less than twenty-five white stripes. The longest forward went for forty yards from Ray Foley to Bill Harvey, the two Red Birds who were destined to bring victory to their team through their scintillating passing and line-plunging.

Stars of Game
In the limelight with Foley and Harvey were Nick Manfreda and "Dutch" Schmidt for Catholic University, and Capt. Henry Sapp, Walker, Stehman and Viethmeyer for the Colonials.

Praise is due the Hatchette line that proved to be a veritable wall through which the Red Birds seldom passed. Allhouse and Carey, fleet wingmen, stood out on the offense as well as the defense when they maneuvered in position to receive the accurate passes of the redoubtable Sapp.

Something seldom seen on the Washington gridiron occurred when the final whistle was blown. Amid the shouts of the crowd as it swarmed onto the field the writer noticed that members of the two rival teams were intermingling and shaking hands with each other. It is such good sportsmanship as that which will tend to make football the national sport.

The game was not long under way before the Cardinals were forced back to their 18-yard line. After several vain attempts to penetrate the Colonial line, Schmidt, speedy C. U. fullback, was given the ball. This was the first break of the game, for "Dutch" eluded (Continued on page 3)

BETTY WILTBANK WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Leaves Today for Ann Arbor for National Student Federation Meeting of Interest

Betty Wiltbank, appointed by President Lewis to represent George Washington University at the National Student Federation at Ann Arbor, Mich., December 2, 3, and 4, leaves today. She will attend a meeting which is certain to bring up matters of decided interest to students, and which, although now only in its second year, will no doubt increase in importance and prestige.

The Federation is composed of delegates from all the leading colleges and universities of the United States. At this session, Professor Alexander Meiklejohn, of Wisconsin, formerly President of Amherst, and President Henry Noble MacCracken, will speak. Professor Meiklejohn is a brilliant speaker and noted educational reformer, who has made bold departures in education. It may be remembered that his methods were too new-fangled for the conservative Amherst trustees. President MacCracken is another liberal, who is a leader in the movement for vouchsafing to students a share in the shaping of their curricula.

Among the subjects to be under discussion, which have committees designated to consider them, are Athletics, Compulsory Chapel, Value of Extra-Curricular Activities, Honor System, Elective and Required Courses, Student Government, Fraternities, and Choice and Method of Teachers. Some of the outstanding student speakers are Joseph Prendergast, of Princeton, President of the Senior Class and Senior Council, and member of the Varsity football team, M. A. Cheek, of Harvard, captain of the 1925 football team and class marshal, and Frederick V. Field, editor of the Harvard Crimson.

ENGINEERING SOCIETIES HOLD JOINT MEETING

Francis R. Weller to Speak on Hydro-Electric Developments

The Engineering Society and the G. W. student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers, held a joint meeting in Building Six, at 8:15 Friday, November 26.

The various phases of hydro-electric developments, a field of vital and increasing interest to engineers, were discussed. The speaker was Francis R. Weller, a consulting engineer of national renown.

William W. Bigelow, vice president of the Engineering Society, and H. B. Freehof, president of the George Washington student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, were in charge of the meeting.

NEW FARCE GIVEN BY G. W. PLAYERS

"The Whole Town's Talking" Comedy, Presented Friday In Gymnasium

SETS WELL CONSTRUCTED

Vincent Stubbs and Minnie Williams Star as Leads in Well Chosen Cast

"The Whole Town's Talking," the comedy farce from the pens of Anita Loos and John Emerson, who wrote "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," was given in the gymnasium by the Players on Friday, November 26, before a fair house.

Vincent Stubbs and Minnie Lee Williams starred as Henry Simmons and his daughter, Ethel, with Max Tandler playing Chester Binney. The leads were well carried, and the supporting cast did excellent work.

Play Received Well

The farce was exceptionally well received, and none of the cleverness of its authors were lost on the audience, but the act that brought the heaviest applause was the second, in which the screamingly funny situations developed in the first act reached their climax.

The set, a living room in the summer, was painted by Fern Henninger and put by William Ellenberger, the manager of the production. Maxine De Silva superintended the hanging of curtains and the finishing of the set. Mr. Francis Brady of the Mask and Bauble Club of Georgetown University, assisted in the work of arranging the stage. Francis Hofheins superintended the lighting and arranged the day and night effects.

Play Is Story of Manufacturer

The play is the story of a small town manufacturer who wants his daughter to marry his partner, and with a view to effecting his end, invents a past for his protegee. The daughter becomes interested at once, and the plan works well, when the actress who is supposed to be the third person in the triangle, but who knows nothing of it, comes to town. Her fiancée is a pugilist, and insists on knowing about the affair.

The full cast follows:

Mrs. Henry Simmons, Margaret Maize
Annie, Elizabeth Drury
Taxi Driver, Warren Briggs
Henry Simmons, Vincent Stubbs
Ethel Simmons, Minnie Lee Williams
Roger Shields, Burns D. Price
Chester Binney, Max Tandler
Donald Swift, Warren Johnson
Lettie Lytle, Elizabeth Johnson
Sadie Bloom, Maxine De Silva

Pep Meeting Takes Place of Assembly

Football Heroes Minus Captain Sapp Are Present at Rally For Game

The accustomed peace of Corcoran Hall was seriously disturbed on Wednesday morning when chapel period was turned over to the students, and converted into a pep meeting.

The excitement began when Fred Young, leading his Freshman Safety Leaguers, burst into the already half-filled auditorium, giving the cheers of the Class of '30. The Freshmen took their place on the right while Blue Key and the Sophomores sat on the left and the whole assembly began a concerted roar for the success of the game. Speeches by Coach Crum and Prexy Lewis explained the one-year rule and praised sportsmanship of the students and team.

Then the players arrived, minus "Sheik" Henry Sapp, their bashful captain, who escaped in the hall, and were cheered one by one.

The Pep Meeting was repeated at the end of the Vodvil, and a collection was taken up for a band.

SENIOR ELECTIONS

Announcement of the results of the Senior Class elections in Columbian College has been made, and are as follows: President, Spangler 35, Valden 22; vice president, Latimer 37, Bradford 20; secretary, Walker 35, Baggett 21; treasurer, Robb 34, Bates 23; sergeant-at-arms, Miller 35, Beede 22.

CAMBRIDGE TRIO WINS FROM G. W. IN CLOSE DEBATE

Gymnasium Filled to Hear Brilliant Word Duel on Individual Rights

AUDIENCE VOTE DECIDES

Britishers Get 325 to 166 Vote to Win Second Encounter With Colonial Team

By SHERMAN E. JOHNSON

Parrying with sharp thrusts of pungent wit the points of their opposition, the Cambridge debating trio handed the George Washington team a defeat, 325 to 166, at the gymnasium Monday night in their second encounter with the Colonials. The audience cast individual ballots to decide the winning team.

H. G. G. Herklots of Trinity Hall, W. G. Fordham of Magdalene College, and A. L. Hutchinson of Christ's Church, were the Cambridge team, which upheld the negative of the proposition, "Resolved, That this House opposes the growing tendency of government to invade the rights of individuals." James R. Kirkland, William F. Williamson, and John T. Trimble composed the George Washington team.

Neither team debated essentials of the subject to any great degree, and the debate was largely a controversy over unimportant points. The Britishers realized this fact and called the local team down very roundly for it, scoring ground on the issue. The Cambridge men were exceedingly witty and polished, and their wit was of a much finer and keener quality. On some occasions George Washington men, notably John T. Trimble, scored.

A. L. Hutchinson of Cambridge, was the outstanding speaker of the evening. He was polished and suave, and brought in more fact bearing on the subject than any other speaker. Trimble of George Washington, was the best speaker for his team, and there was much meat in his speech.

Kirkland "Waves Flag"

H. G. G. Herklots was the witliest of the debaters, and was brilliant in rebuttal. William F. Williamson was strongest in rebuttal, his affirmative argument containing too many personalities. James R. Kirkland "waved the flag" and indulged in old-fashioned oratory. He hardly touched the point.

This debate is the fourth international debate in which George Washington has taken part, having met and defeated Oxford University twice, and having lost twice to Cambridge. The members of the Cambridge team have been in Washington since Friday and have been entertained at various fraternity houses. Since they arrived in this country six weeks ago, they have engaged in several debates. This was their last, and they left for England yesterday.

Prof. Gilbert L. Hall of the Law School was chairman, and was introduced by President William Mather Lewis, Dean William Cabell Van Vleck, Dean John R. Lapham, and Professor Henry Gratton Doyle counted the votes.

CO-EDS RESIGN FROM HOUR GLASS SOCIETY

Three Girls, Including Two Officers, Tender Resignations, Charging Politics

Three prominent co-eds have tendered their resignations as officers and members of the Hour Glass Society. Katherine Shoemaker, former vice president of the society; Frances Walker, secretary and treasurer, and Frances Randolph Weber made the following statement in taking this action:

"To the Members of the Hour Glass Honor Society:

"We, the undersigned, hereby tender our resignations as officers and members of the society. We would state the following reasons for this action:

"Membership in this society is no longer based on scholarship, leadership and personality, as required in the constitution, but upon fraternity affiliation. This was amply demonstrated in the recent elections when girls of outstanding leadership and ability were refused admission, and others elected because of the strength of the coalition which is dominating the society.

"The requirements for election to Hour Glass are clearly defined in the constitution and with the destruction of this basis for membership the organization loses its reason for existence as an honor society.

"With our resignations, we leave the society exclusively in the hands of the faction which has brought about this condition.

"A copy of this letter is being sent to the University Hatchet.

(Signed)
Katherine Shoemaker, Pi Beta Phi
Frances Walker, Sigma Kappa
Frances R. Weber, Zeta Tau Alpha
November 26, 1926."

CONTRAST

Last Thursday readers of newspapers might have seen these two things. George Washington students paid one dollar to see their football team play on an alien field, not having a stadium or even the merest football field of its own, and the Ethiopian aristocracy of the town turned out to see Howard University dedicate its new stadium at its annual game with Lincoln.

This contains a grain of thought for right-thinking Congressmen. The only white, non-sectarian, co-educational school of standing in the District, is refused the protecting wing of the national or District government, or its financial support, because of the "policy of the government not to endow private institutions." How consistent! Howard University is privately controlled, and supported by heavy government appropriation.

The District of Columbia is without a District University; practically all the states of the Union have theirs. The United States has no truly national non-sectarian university. Why not either? And if it is to be considered laudable to endow a colored school, which must necessarily fit its graduates for a very narrow field, because of their race, why not laudable to endow George Washington University, which has in the past and will continue to fit so many men for honored public careers. Read the roster of former G. W. men in Congress.

We laud the Republican Congress for its perspicacity in getting so many votes by its munificence. Let it also be public spirited and turn its attention to an institution, rich in traditions, which is forging to its place in the sun and bringing credit on the Capital City.

PUBLISH THE BUDGET!

As usual, about this time every year, there has been much comment about the whys and wherefores of the dollar charge for the C. U. game. Of course, it is understood that the activity card entitles the student to admission to home games only, and that, strictly speaking, a game played in the Catholic University stadium is not a home game.

But the game is never a home game. Year after year it is played on the foreign field and students are charged admission. As G. W. has no field of its own it is necessary to find some other place to play, but an arrangement could be made at least every other year whereby students would be admitted on their activity cards.

It is said that it is impossible to do this because the Student Activity fund does not cover expenses. This is the best reason in the world for charging for the game, but most students do not understand why $40,000 does not cover expenses. Those who have seen the budget know that this is a fact, but the majority have not seen the budget.

It can do no harm to publish the budget and let students see where their money goes. Other colleges may not do it, but we need no precedent. Publish the budget and settle all possible dissatisfaction.

POLITICS IN HOUR GLASS

The action of three girls in resigning from the Hour Glass honor society, coming as a result of what they allege to be a disregard for the standards set in the constitution of that organization seems to be but another outcropping of the feverish growth that is strangling many of the student organizations of the University. By no means the first of its sort to occur, the alleged politicking, if true, seems to be invading a field that in the past has been rather free from taint. Surely no other group of organizations of the University should be freer from the petty bickering of sorority and fraternity affairs than the honor societies. Membership in these societies is, constitutionally, based on pure merit, and election is therefore almost automatic, being merely up to the judgment of those already members of the society to select the outstanding candidates for membership.

Quite a row is reported as having broken out at the recent meeting that selected the girls to be honored this year by the Hour Glass, because certain members of the society claimed the faction in control was passing only those belonging to their particular sororities and rejecting for membership a number of outstanding co-eds because they belonged to the weaker faction.

If the action outlined above is the fact that the withdrawing faction claims it is, a sorry state of affairs has come to pass and the resigning group is to be commended for its action. Surely no student who gives any serious thought to the standing of an honor society in the University, regardless of what political faction he or she belongs to, can countenance the actions alleged to have been taken by the controlling group of the Hour Glass Honor Society.

The Thomas Circle Club was the scene of a very delightful Thanksgiving dance given by the "Styx" on Thursday night. A large crowd turned out and was treated to several specialty performers. Bow Anderson, of Hanes-Anderson's Snappy Sextet, sang popular numbers, and the Charleston and Black Bottom dances were given by Frances Short, Clem Denicke, with a novelty dance by Jacqueline Wemple.

Miss Virginia Pate became the bride of E. Hillard Macomber at one of the loveliest weddings of the season. The ceremony was held at St. Thomas' Church last Friday at 6 o'clock. A reception was given immediately afterward at the Kappa Delta house. Mrs. Victor Macomber, from New York, was the only attendant of the bride and Mr. Victor Macomber, brother of the groom, was the best man. A large party followed the bridal car through town, but a blind alley and a hidden car gave Mr. and Mrs. Macomber chance to escape.

NEWMAN CLUB MEETING

Father John Cartwright, of St. Patrick's, chaplain of the Newman Club, spoke at yesterday's meeting. His subject was "Cardinal Newman," after whom the club is named.

Professor Johnson was an interested spectator at the Sophomore-Freshman Engineers' football game. Besides cheering enthusiastically for whatever team happened to be on the short end of the score, the Prof. showed his interest in the game by acting as head linesman.

Maxine De Silvia was the hostess at a small party given in basement of the University Cafeteria on Wednesday evening, November 24. In honor of Edward Moulton, who was twenty-five years old on that day. Professor Gropp, Pern Heninger, Kermit Girdner, Marion Campbell, and Bob Ward were present. Marion Campbell stole the spotlight by announcing her coming marriage, but asked that the name of the lucky (?) man be withheld at this time. Edward Moulton told the company how it felt to be twenty-five, and then got out as quickly as possible.

The stealthy but zealous work of some dozen midnight prowlers, ardent advocates of school spirit, went for naught Thursday. After a spirited rally and a wild ride out to Catholic University, several hours before daylight, and an artistic daubing of "G. W.'s" and "G. W. Beat C. U.'s" in white paint on Catholic University's gymnasium, several dorms, the score board, and the stands at the stadium, these advertisers of their Alma Mater and willing prophets of the next day's events sadly beheld but faint smudges or nothing at all when they arrived for the game. Hoc semper labora!

However, the gods granted them their reward in permitting them to return unharmed by flying milk bottles and other missiles hurled at them from C. U. dormitory windows under which they rode up and down giving vent to vociferous cheers for George Washington that same night.

Man-power

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoleonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoleonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted where electricity can do the work better at lower cost.

The laboratories and shops of industry are the sources of many of the enduring attainments of our times. In the General Electric organization is an army of 75,000 persons, co-operating to make electricity do more and better work for humanity.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

Golf Team Practices For Spring Schedule

Matches Planned With Virginia, Penn., Georgetown and C. U.; or Trips May Be Taken

The George Washington University Golf Team met in room 15, Corcoran Hall, on Wednesday, November 24, to organize for next spring. Although the golf team has no school recognition at present, they will be recognized as soon as matches are scheduled with Georgetown University and Catholic University. It was learned from Dean Van Vleet.

A match has been scheduled with University of Virginia and other matches with University of Pennsylvania, Georgetown University, and Catholic University are pending. There are possibilities of a match with Princeton. The team does not expect to take more than one or two trips this coming season.

The team is starting with six men, four of these play 80 or better, which is very good material. H. H. Foster was elected secretary and treasurer. The team will meet and play every Sunday at East Potomac Park.

G. W. TO CONDUCT SOUTH ATLANTIC

Cross Country Race To Be Held December 18 in Rock Creek Park

DISTANCE OF SIX MILES

Colonial Harriers Expected to Make Strong Bid; Willett Star in Last Year's Event

Definite arrangements have been made for holding the South Atlantic A. A. U. cross-country championship run under the auspices of George Washington University, Milton L. Dennis, manager of track, was advised last week from the association's offices in Baltimore. The race will be run in Rock Creek Park, December 18, at 3 p. m.

This is the first time that the University has been so honored, and because of the school's long interest in the cross-country running, the event should be a success. A course has been laid out in Rock Creek Park, starting and finishing at the Million Dollar Bridge, extending through part of the Zoo, and back the opposite side of the creek. This comprises two miles, and in conformity with the South Atlantic rule, the course will be circled three times making a distance of approximately six miles.

Large Entry Expected
Invitations have been sent to the leading schools and clubs of the South Atlantic section. According to James T. Ireland, who notified George Washington of the association's action, there should be a larger number of entrants than ever before, as the rule restricting competitors to members of schools and organizations registered with the A. A. U. has been waived, and unattached men may compete.

Prizes to individual winners will be the regular A. A. U. gold, silver, and bronze medals, and to the winning team a suitable trophy. An entry fee of fifty cents is to be charged to each runner.

Each organization will probably enter not more than five men, and three men will count in the score. The George Washington harriers, composed of Domigan, captain, Willett, Baker, Pomeroy, Brown, and Johnson, are regarded as among the favorites. Johns Hopkins, Maryland, and Navy will put in strong bids for honors. Willett was second to Agee of Baltimore in the meet run in the Monumental City last year, and these two should again be among the leaders.

Other details are expected to be shortly forthcoming.

Hopkins Wins Race
By an 18 to 37 verdict the Johns Hopkins cross-country team outclassed the George Washington harriers in a five-mile run around Haines Point on Thanksgiving Day.

The visitors, who have been victorious over Navy's team and who lost to Maryland by a single point, showed up remarkably well in placing their men in first, second, fourth, fifth, and sixth places. Gwinn, the Hopkins star, took the lead early in the race, and never relinquished it. His time for the five miles was 25 minutes 48 1/10 seconds.

Schibel was the second invader to cross the finish line at the East Potomac Park Golf Course. Hurd Willett, George Washington's premier harrier, trotted in next. Soon after Day, Scheidt, and Kelly, all wearers of the Black and Blue, spurred over the line in the order given. Closely followed came Pomeroy, the second George Washington man to finish. Cone (J. H.), Domigan (G. W.), Kirkpatrick (J. H.), Brown (G. W.), and Johnson (G. W.), tallied in the order mentioned.

The race started at 10:45 from the John Paul Jones statue. Proceeded by members of the United States Park Police, who cleared the gravel path for the length of the course, the runners completed the run in good time. The runners were followed throughout the race by ardent rooters of both universities, who commandeered all available vehicles, from flivvers on up, to encourage their representatives.

Co-Ed Hockey Squad Downs Friends, 4-3

Game Played on Enemy Field; Meeting Marks Close of Hockey Season

The G. W. co-ed hockey squad again did itself proud last Wednesday when it defeated the line-up from the Friends School by a score of 4-3. The second team was put on the field by Miss Hopkins, as the game was scheduled as only a practice skirmish. This gave those girls who did not accompany the team to Williamsburg last Saturday an opportunity to participate in one contest with an outside line-up.

The game was played on the hockey field at the Friend's School clubhouse on Wisconsin Avenue. After the game the visiting squad was entertained at tea at the clubhouse.

This meeting marked the close of the hockey season for this fall. Announcement of the girls who will receive their rewards will be made later in the year.

BASKETBALL DUE FOR GOOD YEAR, IS OPINION

Assistant Managers Needed to Help Handle Schedules

Basketball headquarters report a bright outlook for the coming year. The stars of the inter-fraternity series are expected out, and Allhouse, Brown, Sapp, Wallace, and Banton, all veteran players, have returned. Practices will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 7:30. Men coming out will please bring full equipment. Five assistant managers will be required for the basketball season. Up to the present time but one application has been received and Manager Schwinn is anxious to get in touch with more applicants.

AERIAL ATTACK WINS FOR C. U. IN FINAL GAME

man after man in a brilliant broken field run until he was finally pulled down by Sapp, 58 yards from his starting point.

But this excellent work went for naught as Foley's pass was grounded behind the G. W. goal on the next play.

March Down Field

The Colonials then received the ball on their twenty-yard line and immediately started a march up the field, making three successive first downs by Lopeman, Stehman, and a beautiful pass from Sapp to Carey. They would have had a fourth first down had not "Sag" Harris barely missed making the few inches necessary. After an exchange of punts between Stehman and Foley and some clever running by Sapp the ball was on the Cardinals' twenty-yard line. Being in position for a field goal Stehman made a placement kick while Harris held the ball. The ball carried true, giving the Colonials a 3-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second period was still young when the second break of the game made itself evident. George Washington was in possession of the ball on its five-yard line and Stehman got off a powerful punt that carried nearly sixty yards. Foley received it only to fumble it into the hands of Walker, Hatchette center, who ran the remaining distance for a touchdown. Stehman's kick was blocked but his team now had a comfortable 9-0 lead.

The fighting spirit of the McAuliffe men brought the team within scoring distance towards the end of the half and after several desperate attempts little Nick Manfreda crashed over the goal-line on a delayed buck for a much-needed touchdown. Foley's educated toe took care of the extra point. This brought the two teams nearer an equality, 7-7, as the half ended.

The Crummen had finished scoring for the day, but the Marpon and Black added ten points and victory in the second half.

When the C. U. mentor decided to insert Bill Harvey into the lineup he made one of the best guesses of his life. No sooner had Bill entered the fray than Foley began tossing perfect passes to him. In this fashion the Red Birds steadily moved down the field until Harvey carried the ball over for the necessary points for victory. Foley added the extra point for good measure.

Toward the end of the day's hostilities Foley made a beautiful drop kick from the thirty-yard line for three points.

When the game was called the ball was in possession of the fighting warriors of Catholic University. It had been a closely played contest throughout and a game that those who saw it will not soon forget.

SOPH ENGINEERS WIN FROM FROSH

Margin of Four Touchdowns Give Game to Upper-Class Team

FROSH HAVE LEAD ONCE

Whitney and Weigel Star For Sophs; Kelley and Stearns for Frosh

The Sophomore Engineers defeated the Freshmen Engineers by a score of 31-6 in a football game played last Monday at the Tidal Basin Field. Overcoming a 6-point lead scored by the Freshmen in the second quarter, the Sophomore grid-men showed greater offensive strength than their opponents, scoring five touchdowns in a game featured by the line-plunging form of attack.

Neither team threatened in the first quarter, but in the second period Stearns fell on a Sophomore fumble on the Sophs' 12-yard line, from where Kelley scored for the Freshmen by a long run around right end. From this point on, the Sophs were master of the situation, Whitney scoring two touchdowns in the first half.

Two Score in Third

The Sophomores kept the ball from the kick-off in the third period, during which time Weigel and Johnson each went over for a touchdown. In the final quarter, the Sophs scored one more touchdown, after which the Freshmen displayed an attack which had been lacking in the earlier stages of the game, and advanced the ball to the Sophs' 40-yard line, having the ball in their possession as the final whistle blew.

Exciting Court Battle Gives Victory to Former Champion, 6-3, 7-5

Frances Walker won the women's tennis championship of the University for the third time when she defeated Phoebe Morehead, 6-3, 7-5, on the University court last Wednesday afternoon. By this victory Miss Walker claimed permanent possession of the George Washington tennis trophy for women.

The winner held the title twice before, winning it in 1923 and 1924. Last year she lost to the girl she conquered this year, being defeated 13-11, 6-1 in a hard fought match played on the Monument Courts.

Next Ghost Will Be "Historical Number"

Limited Number of First Edition Still Available at Hatchet Office

The "Revival Number" of the Ghost, George Washington University humorous magazine which has been revived by the G. W. Press Club, was placed on sale at the G. W.-C. U. football game at Brookland, Thanksgiving day. A limited number of copies was left at the end of last week and these are still on sale at the Hatchet office, according to members of the publishing organization. Compliments from many sources have been received by the Press Club on their maiden effort.

Work has already been started on the second number of the comic which will appear about January 20. Subscriptions for the three remaining numbers are being taken. The January edition will be known as the "Historical Number" and the editors and artists are working along lines of historical satire for its embellishment. The next issue will have from four to eight additional pages.

The club announces the pledging of Sherman Johnson, and plans to initiate him into membership in the near future.

GIRLS' VARSITY RIFLE TO OPEN UP SEASON

To Shoot Against University of Maine On December 26; Squad Cut

Girls' varsity rifle starts its active season next week, the first match having been scheduled to be fired on December 11, versus the University of Maine. This match should be a victory for the Colonial girls, since last year they beat Maine very easily. Walter Stokes, coach, has about fifteen girls in training for this initial match for which a team of ten will be picked. Most of these girls are ones who were not on the varsity squad last year and will have a chance to represent George Washington for the first time.

The beginners' squad has been cut to thirty. From this a team of five from each class will be chosen for an inter-class match, to be held after the opening of the new semester. The beginners' season will close with competition for the Beginners' Cup, awarded each year by the team to that beginner making the highest average on competitive scores.

The varsity schedule has been completed as follows:

Week Ending—	Opponent—
December 11	Maine
December 18	West Virginia
January 15	Michigan
February 5	California
February 13	Drexel Institute
February 19	Cornell
February 26	Illinois
February 26	Penn State
March 5	Vermont
March 5	Delaware
March 5	Michigan State
March 12	Washington
March 26

Triangular match, Drexel, Maryland, and George Washington.

All matches will be telegraphic except the Drexel Institute shoot at Philadelphia, and the Triangular match at George Washington University, which will be shoulder to shoulder. In addition to these matches the team will compete in the National Rifle Association match on December 26, and the Women's Intercollegiate match on January 25.

Columbian Debaters Discuss Divorce Law

Meeting Turned Into Open Forum When Debater Fails to Show Up

The Columbian Debating Society met last Friday evening in Corcoran Hall.

The debate scheduled for the meeting was, "Resolved, That this House favors a more liberal divorce law for the District of Columbia." The question was to have been debated by K. Bender and Wm. F. Williamson, but due to the absence of Williamson, the topic was outlined by Bender and the meeting was turned into an open forum. Everyone present was asked to voice an opinion and a lively discussion ensued.

H. Spitzer compared the District divorce system to that in Russia and immediately the discussion was transferred to the advantages and disadvantages of the social system in that country. Spitzer was the only defender of the Communist system.

Jack Heather was voted in as a member of the society. W. A. Simpson presided over the meeting, due to the absence of Wm. Williamson, the president.

The Columbian Debating Society met Friday, November 19, and immediately adjourned to listen to the debate between the women of George Washington and Cornell Universities.

LAW FACULTY TO SHUN ELECTIONS

Will Not Take Action On Request To Annul Nominations of Juniors

HELEN MILLER IN SENATE
Other Elections to Come in Near Future Include Senior Officers

A "hands off" policy in connection with Junior Class nominations and elections will be observed by the Law School Faculty. This announcement came as a result of a request made by certain political factions in the Law School, that Junior Class nominations, held on Tuesday, November 23, in Stockton Hall, be declared void, and a date set for a new nomination caucus.

As matters now stand, elections were to have been held Monday in Stockton Hall. There are two candidates for each of the executive offices. They are: president, D. Milton Ladd and Theodore Shields; vice president, Kern G. Beasley and Ruth Morehead; secretary, Frank Milwee and Mary Willis; treasurer, James Kirkland and F. Van Alstine.

Senate Elections

At the time of the elections, ballots were to have been cast for members of the Law School Senate. This body is composed of two men and one woman. Since there is only one woman, Helen Miller, in the group of five students running for membership, she is automatically elected to office. The remaining four candidates are: Jack Crofts, Sherman Hill, Norman Parker and Paul Stout-enburgh.

Senior Class nominations and elections at the Law School are to be held in the near future. Last year a dispute arose over Senior elections, and a strong effort is being made to offset any possible contention this time. Possible candidates for offices have not been definitely ascertained, but two presidential aspirants are believed to have been found in Clyde Tolson and Irving Marshall. Another presidential dark horse is being groomed by Delta Theta Phi fraternity and no doubt will be produced at the nomination caucus. The date for the caucus has not yet been set.

Due to the fact that the Law School Freshmen are as yet unorganized, their elections will not take place until after Junior and Senior politics are out of the way.

German Fellowships Offered For 1927-28

Opportunities for Study in Germany in Engineering, Political Science, and Other Subjects

The Institute of International Education, through the American German Student Exchange, is offering fellowships for study in Germany for the year 1927-28. Among the scholarship are included fellowships in engineering, political science, sociology, history, and a number of other fields of research.

Students interested in the engineering fellowships will find further information on the various bulletin boards and may get in touch with Dean Lapham for additional details.

Requirements for the other fellowships are given on bulletins recently issued by the Institute which are also posted. Application blanks may be secured by writing direct to the American German Student Exchange, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City, attention of Carl J. Friedrich.

CENTRALITES HEAR TALK BY ALUMNI PRESIDENT

Mr. Miller, Principal of Central, Is Guest of Honor

Mr. R. J. Hodgkins, president of the Central Alumni Club for some time, addressed a meeting of George Washington's Central Club on November 10, at Corcoran Hall. He welcomed the club in its third year, and speaking of subjects interesting to its members, he mentioned important events going on at Central, described the Alumni Club, and invited all Centralites to the Annual Reunion, which will take place shortly after Christmas.

Mr. Alvin W. Miller, principal of Central High School, attended the meeting.

The office of vice president of the club was necessarily changed, Rolston Lyon resigning because of the pressure of other duties. Margaret Moreland was elected to take his place.

Plans are now being made for an entertaining meeting the first Wednesday in December, and a large attendance is expected.

CROISSANT SPEAKS ON DRAMA TO DIONYSIANS

"Some Theatrical Developments of the Seventeenth Century" was the subject of Dr. Croissant's talk before the Dionysians in the rehearsal room on the evening of November 17. Dr. Croissant showed that the development of the drama is the result of the social forces of the day. The growth of the French theatre from the tennis court and the English theatre from the inn-yard platform was illustrated by diagrams.

Try-outs for the Dionysians were held in the rehearsal room on November 30.

ELECTION IN DOUBT

The question of the junior ballots, which involved so much fraudulence, is being considered by the entire Faculty Committee on Social Relations.

DR. BARTSCH'S EXPERIMENTS WITH CERION GIVE NEW DATA ON HEREDITY

George Washington Zoology Professor Spends Month of August in Tortugas Gathering Facts Regarding Heredity; Takes Undersea Photographs

Dr. Paul Bartsch, head of the zoology department at George Washington University and also Curator of Molluscs at the Smithsonian Institution, spent the month of August in the Tortugas, the last bit of land in the Key group off Florida, 68 miles southwest of Key West. His headquarters were the U. S. Marine Biological Laboratories of the Tortugas.

Dr. Bartsch's purpose was twofold: the investigation of questions of heredity through his Cerion colonies, and the requirement of many photographs of sub-sea life.

These Cerion colonies, by means of breeding experiments carried on by Dr. Bartsch, throw light on several matters of heredity. First the Cerion were subjected to all sorts of changes in environmental conditions, such as temperature, food, and moisture. They were then subjected to cross breeding. This experiment furnishes new proof of the powerful part played by heredity in the production of new species.

This is the fourteenth year spent by Dr. Bartsch on this problem. He has published many papers on it so far, and is now preparing a monograph on the anatomical changes produced by crossing.

In addition to this work, Dr. Bartsch conducted much under-sea photography, exposing twenty-four hundred feet of moving picture film. Only a part of this proved good, however, as a single small feature in the sub-sea camera was not provided against. This part of the mechanism has already been changed, and makes Dr. Bartsch look forward to his trip this coming summer.

Some of the film secured shows hundreds of fish in their diverse activities about the coral reef. No sharks were photographed this year, but a long strip of pictures of the dreaded baracuda was obtained.

History Club Hears Miss Stella Randolph

Former Teacher of Roberts College, Constantinople, Illustrates Lecture With Views

Miss Stella Randolph spoke before a large number of students at a meeting of the History Club, held in Corcoran Hall recently.

Miss Randolph, who has been teaching in Constantinople for some time, gave an illustrated lecture on the customs of the Turkish people. She stated that the Turks are becoming more and more modern in their ideas, thus improving the efficiency of their work and living conditions. The views of Constantinople, which accompanied Miss Randolph's talk, gave her audience a vivid description of the problems which confront teachers and relief workers in Turkey.

New history students are urged to join the club and to attend the next meeting.

The club held a bridge party in Corcoran Hall, Friday evening, November 26. The proceeds will be added to the Swisher Testimonial Fund, which is for the purpose of building in the library an alcove devoted to books on historical subjects.
